

Some websites for you and your learner

1. Our own Literacy Volunteers website <http://www.lva-cc.org/>

Check this out often, to see our news and pictures and to find out about upcoming events.

2. Computer skills <http://www.gcflearnfree.org/computers>

Whether you are new to the computer, returning for review or just want to gain more 21st century skills, these free computer tutorials can help. From Computer Basics to Microsoft Office to Apple, this site offers a wide range of free technology tutorials to choose from. In addition to technology, there are math and reading tutorials. Uses videos. A great site that deserves a look.

3. Free Rice <http://freerice.com/>

This website has a game that actually gives free rice for every right answer you give. So you will have fun, learn, and help end hunger all at the same time! The site has lots of different categories—English vocab, grammar, geography, human anatomy, and lots of different levels. Very easy to use! (We've set up a Literacy Volunteers of Clinton County "group" on this site, so please "play" as part of this group and we'll see how much rice we can donate through our correct answers.)

4. Learn English Feel Good <http://www.learnenglishfeelgood.com/>

Whether you would like to practice your knowledge of English grammar, to learn new vocabulary, idioms, or phrasal verbs, this website will provide you with the resources that you need. Whether your level is Beginner, Intermediate, or Advanced, you'll find what you need to help you speak and write better English. Movie Clips.

5. Activities for ESL Students <http://a4esl.org/>

Quizzes, tests, exercises and puzzles to help you learn English as a Second Language (ESL)

6. Typing <http://www.typingweb.com>

This site teaches you how to type....from beginner to expert.

Please tell us which are your favorites and tell us about new sites you like!!